

72. Calamity Brook

This is a trail junction where wood trails cross which head in several directions. The one to Indian Pass is clearly indicated as a State trail with blue markers.

Calamity Brook brings to mind the sad accident involving David Henderson who accidentally discharged his rifle into himself which resulted in his death. He apparently was on an exploratory mission searching for an iron ore mine when the fatal accident occurred.

