

Warren County Proposal to close the Fish Hatchery

I have a short prepared statement I would like to share.

The economic impact of closing the hatchery in my view would far out weigh the short term and short sighted savings if the hatchery is closed. I can only speak for my own business, however I can take what I know and project it across my competitors to come up with an approximate dollar figure just to the fishing tackle businesses in our area. Here are some figures I was able to come up with.

FISH307 sells approximately $120,000 per year of tackle that is used locally in our streams and ponds that are stocked by our hatchery. That $120,000 does several things for our local economy. It provides $3600 in direct sales tax to the county, It creates a job that will have to cut due to a shrinkage of business, it creates the need for a restaurant to open early for breakfast and a motel room to be available before the "season" begins. If you take my one business and push it out you will see that it helps provide jobs to many people. Now if you take my 1 small fishing tackle business and project it out to all of my competitors in our outdoor sports oriented county I think you will see that the sales taxes created from the hatchery out weigh the cost.

If you look at the 2008 Warren County Guide, a book created by the county you will see at least 12 pages with streams ponds and fishing in it. We use our natural beauty and resources to sell our county to the world. It brings in thousands or 10's of thousands of people to the area every year. Weather we want to admit it or not we live in a tourist based economy and the outdoors and fishing are an integral part of it.

Now I do not know how many of you have been to the hatchery during the summer. It is a well used facility like any other park we have. There are picnics, weddings, family party's etc that take place there all summer long. What a fabulous resource.

I would just like to give a few statistics. A study done by the American sport fishing Association for 2006 shows the economic impact for NYS.

Total anglers 1,153,000. non resident 221,000, total fishing days 17,060,000, total non resident fishing days 2,100,000, fresh water anglers 741,000 , fresh water fishing days 10,994,000, fresh water retail sales $442,549,359, total ripple effect sales $754,662,734, salaries wages & business earnings $243,767,623 , it creates 6920 direct jobs and $60,367,829 in state and local tax revenue. For non resident anglers it creates $4,466,489,121 in travel expenses which includes food, lodging, boat ramp fees, marina gear, gas among other things.

So you can see fishing has a large impact on our economy.

Closing the hatchery does not help our cause in trying to attract people to our area. Let's give ourselves a reason to stay, and our guests a reason to come, to our slice of the world, One of the prettiest places on earth. Let's continue funding the hatchery which helps create jobs, brings tourists in to the area and raises our quality of life. The hatchery pays, it does not cost.

Thank You for you time.

FEDERAL AID IN WILDLIFE RESTORATION ACT (PITTMAN-ROBERTSON ACT)

16 U.S.C. §§ 669-669i, September 2, 1937, as amended 1939, 1941, 1946, 1950, 1955, 1956, 1959, 1960, 1970, 1972, 1974, 1976, 1980, 1984, 1986 and 1989.

Overview. This Act, commonly called the Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Restoration Act, provides federal aid to the states for the management and restoration of wildlife. The aid, funded through an excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, may be used to support a variety of wildlife projects, including acquisition and improvement of wildlife habitat.

Selected Definitions. Wildlife-restoration project: selection, acquisition, restoration, rehabilitation, improvement and maintenance of areas of land or water adaptable as feeding, resting or breeding places for wildlife; also includes research into problems of wildlife management. §§ 669a and 669g.

Cooperation of Secretary with the States. The Act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) to provide federal aid to state fish and game departments for wildlife restoration projects. To be eligible for federal funds, a state must assent to the provisions of the Act and have laws governing the conservation of wildlife. Additionally, a state must have a law prohibiting the diversion of license fees paid by hunters for any purpose other than the administration of the state's fish and game department. All wildlife-restoration projects aided under the Act must be agreed upon by the Secretary and the fish and game department of the state where the project is located. § 669.

Wildlife Restoration Fund. The Act establishes a federal aid to wildlife restoration fund, in the U.S. Treasury. The fund consists of all revenues accruing each fiscal year from taxes imposed on certain types of sporting goods. The sporting goods covered by the Act are specified in the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. §§ 4161(b) and 4181, and include most types of firearms, ammunition, and bows and arrows.

The Act authorizes funds to be appropriated and made available until expended. Any amount apportioned to a state that is unspent or unobligated at the end of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the funds were apportioned may be used by the Secretary to carry out the provisions of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act, which is summarized in this Handbook. The Secretary may use up to eight percent of the revenues to the fund for administering this Act and the Migratory Bird Conservation Act. Remaining revenues must be apportioned to the states.

One-half of the revenues accruing to the fund each fiscal year from tax imposed on pistols, revolvers, bows and arrows must be apportioned among the states based on population. No state, however, may be provided more than three percent and not less than one percent of such revenues, and Guam, the Virgin Islands, America Samoa and the Northern Mariana Islands must each be apportioned one-sixth of one percent.

Of the revenues remaining in the fund, one-half must be apportioned among the states based on geographic size and one-half based on the number of paid hunting-license holders in each state. Apportionments must be equitably adjusted so that no state receives less than one-half of one percent or more than five percent of the total amount apportioned. §§ 669b-669c.

For each fiscal year, the Secretary must certify to the Secretary of the Treasury and to each state fish and game department the amount of revenues apportioned to each state and the amount deducted for administrative expenses. A state wishing to avail itself of funds apportioned under the Act must notify the Secretary of the Interior to this effect within 60 days after receiving the notice of certification. If a state fails to do so, its funds may be used by the Secretary to carry out the provisions of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act. § 660d.

The Act requires the Secretary of the Treasury to invest the portion of the fund not required for current year spending in interest-bearing obligations. The interest must be used for the North American Wetlands Conservation Act (summarized in this Handbook) through fiscal year 2005, and then be made available for apportionment under this Act. § 669b.

Wildlife Restoration Projects. To receive funds under the Act, a state must submit to the Secretary either a comprehensive fish and wildlife resource management plan or a detailed description of proposed wildlife-restoration projects. Wildlife resource management plans must insure the perpetuation of wildlife resources for economic, scientific and recreational purposes. The plans must be for a least five years and must be based on long-range projections regarding the desires and needs of the public. Upon approval by the Secretary of a state's plan or wildlife-restoration project, the state may use the federal funds apportioned it under the Act to finance up to 75 percent of the costs of the plan or project. Approved plans or projects must be comprehensive and substantial in character and design. § 669e.

The maintenance of wildlife-restoration projects established under the Act becomes the duty of the states. Apportioned funds may be used by the states for management of wildlife areas and resources, but not for law enforcement or public relations. States may use funds apportioned on the basis of population to pay up to 75 percent of the costs of a hunter safety program, and the construction and operation of public target ranges. § 669g.

Aid to U.S. Territories and Possessions. The Act authorizes the Secretary to provide aid to Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the Northern Mariana Islands and the Virgin Islands for wildlife-restoration projects. The Secretary may, in any one year, apportion up to one-half of one percent of the money available under the Act for Puerto Rico and one-sixth of one percent each for Guam, American Samoa, the Northern Mariana Islands and the Virgin Islands. In no event may the Secretary require any of the cooperating agencies to pay more than 25 percent of the cost of an approved project. § 669g-1.

Regulations. The Secretary is authorized to promulgate regulations necessary for carrying out the Act. § 669i.

RESOLUTION NO. 72 OF 2009

Messrs. Dooris & Hill introduced Res. No. 72 and moved its adoption:

RESOLUTION IN SUPPORT OF THE WARREN COUNTY FISH HATCHERY

WHEREAS, the Warren County Fish Hatchery, operated by Warren County and established by the State of New York in 1914 has become a great family and group attraction bringing revenue and education throughout our Communities, AND

WHEREAS, the Fish Hatchery not only stocks our waterways, but also protects our local waters from the growth of negative organism and pollution throughout Warren County, AND

WHEREAS, the Fish Hatchery has annually stocked the Mill Pond in Brant Lake for the Fishing Derby which helps introduce a new generation to the lifetime pleasures of fishing, and without the help and guidance of the hatchery this Derby would not be possible, AND

WHEREAS, thousands of people visit the Fish Hatchery annually, using the facility for sports activities, company gatherings, organizational and family events and to enjoy the great environment the grounds provide to all. The loss of this educational opportunity to teach school children and adults alike about the operation of the hatcheries, significance of stocking the various waterways and benefits to all of nature would impact the entire area, AND

WHEREAS, the Town of Horicon's Town Board and the people of Horicon are aware of Warren County's need to find ways to meet the budget gap and applauds their efforts to seek solutions, but feel the Warren County Fish Hatchery is too important to the future to end the funding, NOW, THEREFORE BE IT

RESOLVED, that the Town Board of the Town of Horicon, on behalf of the people of this Community urges the Warren County Board of Supervisors to continue to fund the operations of the Fish Hatchery so that it may continue to be a bright spot in our County, BE IT FURTHER

RESOLVED, that copies of this Resolution be sent to the Warren County Board of Supervisors, Senator Elizabeth Little and Assembly Member Teresa Sayward.

My name is Doug Moline and I have been fishing Warren County waters for over 50 years. During this time I can't begin to count the number of wonderful days I have spent fishing on the Schroom River. Most of the days have been productive as far as catching (and releasing) trout. In part these productive days I have enjoyed are due to the efforts of the Warren Co Fish Hatchery and I give thanks to them for Warren Co for ~~the~~ the funding of the hatchery.

Today I am writing because of my concern for the Hatchery's future. I recently read in the Post-Star an article concerning budget cuts and possible closure of the Fish Hatchery. It is my desire that you consider the following before making a decision and ultimately support keeping the hatchery in operation.

Today I am writing because of my concern for the Hatchery's future. I recently read in the Post-Star an article concerning budget cuts and possible closure of the Fish Hatchery. It is my desire that you consider the following before making a decision and ultimately support keeping the hatchery in operation.

① Outdoor sports such as fishing is one of the reasons people live here. I am mainly referring to local residents and their children. Fishing teaches young people, as well as some adults respect for the land and its wildlife. A quality fishing experience will provide an opportunity for a worthwhile lifetime activity. A trip to the local trout stream is certainly

(4) A beautiful setting, clean water, available fishing sites, and accessibility are all here in Warren Co. Let's make the best of them ~~it it~~ and put these gifts that we enjoy to work ~~for us~~.

(5) Trout fishing in clean rivers & streams is something special. Once you do it and become successful you are "hooked" for life. It is a much different experience than lets say fishing from a boat on a lake. Trout ~~season~~ season begins in April when ponds & lakes are just thawing out & continues through June. Unfortunately trout do not naturally reproduce in the streams & rivers of ~~Warren~~ Warren Co. (other than small brook trout in a limited number of small brooks) I can remember that as a kid (45 years ago) I could catch all the nice sized brook trout I wanted right in trout brook in Pattersville however that is not the case today. In additin stocked trout do not hold over from year to year. These are all reasons that mandate a quality & stocking program.

(6) Economic impact has got to be of concern especially in today's environment.

Local motels, restaurants, grocery stores, gas stations as well as bait & tackle shops would certainly lose revenue that is much needed. I meet a lot of people while fishing local waters, they are here for the ~~fishing~~ trout fishing, and while many are local, many others are from the Capital District as well as from southern New York and New Jersey. Just last week I met a dentist & his fishing buddy who took a weeks vacation to trout fish ~~local~~ mainly the Schoon River. They were staying at local motel, spending money locally, eating out and enjoying themselves tremendously as they had done for many years prior. Do not take the natural ~~beauty~~ beauty <sup>AND</sup> fishing potential that we enjoy for granted, and do not underestimate the value of these commodities. The loss of a quality stocking program will have a definite negative impact to Warren County.

The heritage of the North Country was born in the traditions of its founders. The outdoors, hunting & fishing are part of this ~~her~~ heritage and must she preserved. I urge you to do your part and support a quality ~~stocking~~ Trout stocking program here in Warren Co. so that residents, as well as other locals, and visitors can continue to enjoy this wonderful spot.

Thank you for your consideration
